SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

Submit anything!!! At the rate this club is going, I'd be crazy to discourage people.

I need articles, photographs, drawings, and anything else fit to print. The following guidelines are intended to help you, not hinder you. And once again, I'm currently asking you nicely, but it's do or die time folks.... And I won't go out without a fight. So PLEASE submit now.....thanx STYLE--This is a casual paper, so write semi-casual, in English (Ok, so I break my own rules!), but that's about all you'll have to worry about: we'll do the rest.

* * * * *

PHOTOGRAPHS-Photographs are hard to reproduce with a photocopier, so make sure your photo has good contrast. Black and white accomplish this the best, but we'll take color photos. Photographs should not be any larger than 8'x 8', no smaller than 1'x 1'.

DRAWINGS-Drawings can be in ink, pencil (#2 or darker), or they can be photocopies. (Please send two photocopies so I can pick the better of the two).

Drawings can be comical or realistic.

* * * * *

CAPTIONS-Artwork and photographs should have captions, true or just made up.

If you remember, I said in my first edition of this paper that I would simply send you blank sheets of paper if I didn't receive any articles to print. Well guess what happened..... Now I don't want to blame everyone for this, in fact, I would like to thank Phil Michaels (My new Editor who had nothing to do with this article.) and Roger Balwinski who is helping out wherever he can. Now I hope I can fill these two pages next month and in case your wondering both Phil and Roger are from Michigan. What about Ohio, Indiana, Illinbis, and the rest of you, you know us Michiganians: we think the world revolves around us, Frankly from what I've seen, it does.....

Prove me wrong.

thank you for your support..
