A message from your editor-in-chief

Well it's finally happened. After numerous requests, the first TAMR directory in three years is in your hands. I hope you'll find it easy to use, and informative. This directory is a bit different compared with past ones. For example: On the next page you'll see a financial report from our Auditor, Erik Romatowski, and the complimentary members have been left in the main directory. It does contain the usual directory features though. It's been consolidated to one page to save the aggravation of following an address across two pages. Alternating shades have also been used to make it easier to follow. There is also a list of your 2003-04 TAMR Officers, which brings me to my next point, WE NEED OFFICERS! You'll notice on the list the three positions marked "interim", and the two vacancies. These positions are open to all you members out there under the age of twenty-one with a little time on your hands and a good work ethic. The greatest need is for a replacement Treasurer. Nick Wilson who has been gracious enough to fill in, won't be able to, after this year. In a nutshell, as Treasurer, you oversee all renewals, new members, and expiring members, along with all the money going out and coming in then send monthly updates to the HB editor, and Auditor. After my job it's the most time-consuming, plus it requires a love of math (unless you have software that loves it), and some basic banking and accounting skills (again software helps here). It also helps if you have a pleasant outgoing personality and can work well with others. I'm not trying to discourage anyone. I just want anyone whose interested to know what this job entails before raising their hand. I also don't want to forget those other positions. They are also important, and like my job, Nicks, Chris' and others are part of a team that can either make or break this organization. Become a big part of the Officer team and volunteer today. You may only serve for a few short years, but the friendships, and great memories you'll make will last a lifetime. •

Before I go I'd like to welcome a few new members to our ranks. Be sure to drop them a line and say, "hi!"
